

I have a suggestion for this!

Share a problematic situation you would like to suggest a solution for

Presenting the problem

Widespread prejudice against videogames prevents Italian educators from appreciating how deeply gaming affects today's imagination and aspirations and hence from tapping into its full potential

Giving numeric grades at school

One of my roommates never takes the trash out. I think to fix this I could try telling her for the millionth time. I'm not sure it would work tho

bus and train strikes

Minimum wage

Train strike

Depression Among Young People

People screaming at each other and fight, being rude and sometimes even impolite to those who don't have the same opinion as them or just don't like

Presenting the problem

Taxes on tampons are in my opinion something that should be removed.

There is a surprising lack of empathy in most people, young and old alike, which leads to being very close minded towards anything that happens to be different architectural barriers are obstacles that do not allow the complete mobility of anyone and in particular of those who, for any reason, have a reduced or impeded motor capability.

A realistic and expensive problem faced by many women and mothers in the country daily is the excessively high taxation on tampons, personal hygiene products and infants products.

People have to pay a huge amount of money for energy

Anxiety

Speculation from airline companies makes it impossible for students living far away from home to come back during the holidays.

The absence of the "everyday" public transports at night in the specific case of Trieste

Presenting the problem

The problem that I want to talk about is the public transport in Puglia. The buses are always late and full of people, so it's difficult to use them.

Our school system is obsolete, I once asked my grandparents what school was like when they were my age and the only difference was that they didn't have computers, everything else has remained the same

CHATGPT and AI intelligence are considered as not useful for the learning and the studying, even if they could be a great toll, in various way

People are always ready to judge other people without knowing nothing about them. Judging is such a no sense thing.

the transport strike and how it affects everyone's daily life. specifically in our case it doesn't allow non-resident students to participate in some lessons or simply to return home after them

Procrastination is a very common problem, that affects many young people nowadays. We try to postpone a duty and then we do things in a hurry at the last moment

The fear that women feel when they walk alone at whatever hour

There is one of my flatmates, who always brings girls in our flat and occupies the common areas, especially the kitchen

Presenting the problem

the effects of social media on kids bust mostly on teenagers

Giving numeric grades at school affects students' mental health: it can lower their confidence.

Transport connection between Italian cities (bus, trains and airplanes). Some cities are not connected well, so people, for example, have to change lots of trains and strikes cause more discomfort.

Beauty pageants for little girls can have a pretty harmful impact on their self confidence and their growth.

Poverty around the world

The common need of approval from others to feel excepted, which leads to an endless inadequacy

Living alone could be a problem for those who have lived always with parents. If you've always found everything ready or you've never became independent it could be very difficult to live on your own

Everything has become more expensive but salaries are still the same.

Presenting the problem

the fact that, in our modern society we are loosing our ability to wait and to appreciate the little things, we are just used to rushing and not paying attention to others

When the flatmates are untidy, the entire flat is dirty and the flatmates do nothing to change the situation. This atmosphere could create a stressful environment.

Combining habits and schedules and dividing money equally when we live with flatmates

Okay, let's start working on this! 🙌

